

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood with a complex street grid. A red line with arrows at both ends traces a path from a yellow dot at the top center, down a main road, then left, then down, then left, and finally down into a canal. Two red circles highlight specific buildings: one on the left side of the canal and one on the right side. The text 'With Boat to River' is centered in the upper half. 'Cape Harbour' is labeled near the left circle, and 'Tarpon Point' is labeled near the right circle.
